

Your Bill of Rights

- You have the right to be you.
- You have the right to put yourself first.
- You have the right to be safe.
- You have the right to be loved.
- You have the right to be treated with respect.
- You have the right to be human - NOT PERFECT.
- You have the right to be angry and protest if you are treated unfairly or abusively by anyone.
- You have the right to your own privacy.
- You have the right to your own opinions, to express them, and to be taken seriously.
- You have the right to earn and control your own money.
- You have the right to ask questions about anything that affects your life.
- You have the right to grow and change (and that includes changing your mind).
- You have the right to say NO.
- You have the right NOT to be responsible for other people's problems.
- You have the right not to be liked by everyone.
- You have the right to control your own life and to change it if you are not happy with it as it is.

If your partner is not respecting your rights; free and confidential help is available. MSU Safe Place, the campus relationship violence and stalking program, provides emotional support, advocacy services, and/or safe shelter. Safe Place staff will not tell you what to do, but can help you explore your options.
